Business IT alignment defines the process in which business organizations use IT to achieve business objectives.

Tips For Business IT Alignment:

- Motivate different teams to understand each other’s role & functioning.
- Integrate teams to form business units and implement IT tools in these business units.
- Implement a common company language among all business teams including IT.
- Be equally transparent to all teams so that they can work towards a common goal.
- Use in-house mentorship programs that support IT & business employees to bridge the gap between them.
